THE EDUCATIONAL FORUM

INDEX

Volume 50

(Fall 1985 - Summer 1986)

Published by
KAPPA DELTA PI
An International Honor Society in Education

ARTICLES

By Title:

Acceptable Library Censorship: The Supreme Court's Guide. Ruth Holton, 67-74.

Achieving Self-Discipline through Literature. Tony W. Johnson, 47-55.

Administrator In Fiction: Portrayals of Higher Education, The. Von V. Pittman and John M. Theilmann, 405-418.

Between the Eternities. William G. Carr, 299-301.

Bi-directionality in Education. Bettye M. Caldwell, 295-297.

Century of the Universal School, A. William C. Bagley, 232-240.

Challenge: 1985-2000, The. Robert Havighurst, 307-308.

Concept of Academic Productivity, The. Gerald M. Reagan, 75-85.

Continuing the Quest for Equity and Excellence. A. Harry Passow, 329-336.

Continuing the Quest for Excellence. Ralph W. Tyler, 345-349.

Cries for Excellence: Echoes from the Past. Ronald Podeschi and David Hackbarth, 419-432.

Daring to Make Teaching an Art. Sanford W. Reitman, 137-148.

Early Childhood Education: Issues and Trends. Paula Jorde, 171-181.

Educational Malpractice: The Threat and Challenge. B. Glen Epley, 57-65.

Eight-Year Study: A Story Not to Be Forgotten, The. Earlene Mitchell, 11-21.

Experience and Education. John Dewey, 241-252.

Excellence in Education: Danish Style. William G. Williams, 393-404.

Excellence through Minimum Essentials and Individual Development. William M. Alexander, 285-288.

Few Lessons from the Past, A. Harold D. Drummond, 303-306.

For the One World. Herman B Wells, 355.

Golden Threads of Life. Henry H. Hill, 317-318.

Great Confusion, The. Walter Lippmann, 371-374.

Great Conspiracy, The. Lewis M. Terman, 363-370.

Guiding Principles for a More Adequate Educative Process. William Heard Kilpatrick, 253-262.

Idea Men and Engineers in Education. W.W. Charters, 263-272.

Intangible Supports of Liberty, The George S. Counts, 273-282.

International Experience in Teaching. Angene H. Wilson, 441-454.

Interviews with Ralph W. Tyler. Mary Louise Mickler, 23-46.

Is a New Paradigm in Teacher Education Possible? Ruth C. West, 455-464.

Lesson and a Prospect, A. Rosemary Park. 325-327.

Lessons and Goals for Education. David D. Henry, 309-311.
Lessons from the Past. Harold Taylor, 341-343.
Lessons, Goals, Predictions. Felix C. Robb, 333-336.
Mediocrity and Individuality. John Dewey, 357-362.
Microcomputers in Schools: Questions to Be Asked. Hugh W. Fraser, 87-97.
Past and the Future, The. Harold G. Shane, 337-339.
Pregnant Teenagers: A Challenge. Betty Gittman, 191-197.
Professional Classroom Teacher, The. Harry S. Broudy, 289-290.
Quality and Equality of Education. Theodore M. Hesburgh, 313-316.
Reading Media. Melvin W. Levison, 149-157.
Secular Humanism and Education. John S. Brubacher, 291-293.
Taking the Proper Test. Carol Merz, 433-439.
Teacher Upgrading: Policy Alternatives. Julius Menacker, Emanuel Hurwitz, and Ward Weldon, 123-135.
Teaching for a Democracy. Alice Miel, 319-323.
Tolstoy: The Teacher. Paul A. Wagner and Bryone Sobotka, 183-190.
Voluntary Reading: Forgotten Goal. Lesley Mandel Morrow, 159-168.
What I Have Learned. William Van Til, 351-353.

By Author:

Alexander, William M. Excellence through Minimum Essentials and Individual Development, 285-288.
Bagley, William C. A Century of the Universal School, 232-240.
Broudy, Harry S. The Professional Classroom Teacher, 289-290.
Brubacher, John S. Secular Humanism and Education, 291-293.
Caldwell, Bettye M. Bi-directionality in Education, 295-297.
Carr, William G. Between the Eternities, 299-301.
Charters W.W. Idea Men and Engineers in Education, 263-272.
Counts, George S. The Intangible Supports of Liberty, 273-282.
Dewey, John. Experience and Education, 241-252.
_____. Mediocrity and Individuality, 357-362.
Drummond, Harold D. A Few Lessons from the Past, 303-306.
Epley, B. Glen. Educational Malpractice: The Threat and Challenge, 57-65.
Fraser, Hugh W. Microcomputers in Schools: Questions to Be Asked, 87-97.
Gittman, Betty. Pregnant Teenagers: A Challenge, 191-197.

Havighurst, Robert. The Challenge: 1985-2000, 307-308.

Henry, David D. Lessons and Goals for Education, 309-311.

Hesburgh, Theodore M. Quality and Equality of Education, 313-316.

Hill, Henry H. Golden Threads of Life, 317-318.

Holton, Ruth. Acceptable Library Censorship: The Supreme Court's Guide, 67-74.

Johnson, Tony W. Achieving Self-Discipline through Literature, 47-55.

Jorde, Paula. Early Childhood Education: Issues and Trends, 171-181.

Kilpatrick, William Heard. Guiding Principles for a More Adequate Educative Process, 253-262.

Levison, Melvin E. Reading Media, 149-157.

Lippmann, Walter. The Great Confusion, 371-374.

Menacker, Julius, Emanuel Hurwitz, and Ward Weldon. Teacher Upgrading: Policy Alternatives, 123-235.

Merz, Carol. Taking the Proper Test, 433-439.

Mickler, Mary Louise. Interviews with Ralph W. Tyler, 23-46.

Miel, Alice. Teaching for a Democracy, 319-323.

Mitchell, Earlene. The Eight-Year Study: A Story Not to Be Forgotten, 11-21.

Morrow, Lesley Mandel. Voluntary Reading: Forgotten Goal, 159-168.

Park, Rosemary. A Lesson and a Prospect, 325-327.

Passow, A. Harry. Continuing the Quest for Equity and Excellence, 329-332.

Pittman, Von V., Jr. and John M. Theilmann. The Administrator in Fiction: Portrayals of Higher Education. 405-418.

Podeschi, Ronald, and David Hackbarth. Cries for Excellence: Echoes from the Past, 419-432.

Reagan, Gerald M. The Concept of Academic Productivity, 75-85.

Reitman, Sanford W. Daring to Make Teaching an Art, 137-148.

Robb, Felix C. Lessons, Goals, Predictions, 333-336.

Shane, Harold G. Reflections from the Past and Promises for the Future, 337-339.

Taylor, Harold. Lessons from the Past, 341-343.

Terman, Lewis M. The Great Conspiracy, 363-370.

Tyler, Ralph W. Continuing the Quest for Excellence, 345-349.

Van Til, William. What I Have Learned, 351-353.

Wagner, Paul A. and Bryone Sobotka. Tolstoy: The Teacher, 183-190.

Wells, Herman B. For the One World, 355.

West, Ruth C. Is a New Paradigm in Teacher Education Possible? 455-464.

Williams, William G. Excellence in Education: Danish Style, 393-404.

Wilson, Angene H. International Experience in Teaching, 441-454.

COLUMNS

On the Shoulders of Giants:

Dusk in the Robot Museums: The Rebirth of Imagination. Ray Bradbury, 225-230.

The School in American Culture. Margaret Mead, 389-392.

Reflections from the Desert:

Kaoru Yamamoto, 7-8; 119-120; 223; 383-384.

Voices of the Young:

A Lost Part of Life: Images of Grandad. Kris Bauer, 121.

I Remember. Pauline Keoto Hackett, 9-10.

Music In An Empty Room. Ronalee Rackley, 386-387.

BOOK REVIEWS

An Angel at My Table by Janet Frame. Reviewed by Marilyn Maxson, 201-203.

Do Lord Remember Me by Julius Lester. Reviewed by Lois B. Muehl, 475-477.

Ethics of Teaching, The, by Kenneth A. Strike and Jonas F. Soltis. Reviewed by Forrest W. Parkay, 105-107.

Faculty Vitality and Institutional Productivity: Critical Perspectives for Higher Education edited by Shirley M. Clark and Darrell R. Lewis. Reviewed by Donald J. Reichard, 211-214.

In Her Own Right by Elisabeth Griffith. Reviewed by Gail McEachron Hirsch, 205-207.

La Merica by Michael La Sorte. Reviewed by Renee M.B. Brimfield, 479-481.

On the Shoulders of Giants by Robert K. Merton. Reviewed by Harriet E. Hudson and David T. Turney, 467-469.

Periodic Table, The, by Primo Levi. Reviewed by Herbert Hirsch, 471-473.

Second Self: Computers and the Human Spirit, The, by Sherry Turkle. Reviewed by Jessie A. Roderick, 101-104.

Thought and Character: The Rhetoric of Democratic Education by Frederick J. Antczak. Reviewed by Marc Mahlios, 483-488.

20 Teachers by Ken Macrorie. Reviewed by Burton L. Grover, 109-111.

Work Transformed by Harley Shaiken. Reviewed by Warren Lamb, 209-210.